Exhibit 51

TAX FRANCHISES

Block raises more than $1M for nonprofits

By Jeff Stimpson   May 29, 2018, 10:52 a.m. EDT   1 Min Read

The program awarded nonprofits $20 for each new client they referred to the tax prep chain giant or to Block Advisors for prep.

In 2018, the program contributed more than $1 million to participating 501(c)(3), 501(c)(6), 501(c)(19) and 501(c)(23) organizations such as schools, chambers of commerce, and veterans' organizations. Nonprofits that have used the program range from Make-A-Wish foundations and the National Center for Farmworker Health to music festivals, a gastroschisis foundation and the U.S. Hang Gliding and Paragliding Association.

Payroll Relief: The Ultimate Payroll Software for Accountants

SPONSOR CONTENT FROM ACCOUNTANTSWORLD

Nonprofits often see a spike in donations toward the end of year as taxpayers bump up donation deductions, according to Block. Donations typically decline at the beginning of the year.

Organizations can sign up for next year online or by contacting a Block office.

Jeff Stimpson Freelance Writer

TAX FRANCHISES   CORPORATE PHILANTHROPY   H&R BLOCK

TRENDING

TAX

Practitioner coalition urges IRS to step up for tax season

The groups want the service to reduce unnecessary burdens on taxpayers and tax preparers.
By Roger Russell
January 19

PREMIUM   AUDIT

Myanmar protesters call for international audit institutions to sever contact

An activist group called Justice for Myanmar that has been protesting the military takeover of the Myanmar government is urging international audit institutions to end all their engagement with the government's auditor general.
By Michael Cohn
January 19

PREMIUM   ACCOUNTING

Global economic confidence among accountants dipped in Q4

North American accountants, however, felt more upbeat than most.
By Michael Cohn
January 19

MORE FROM ACCOUNTING TODAY

TAX

Practitioner coalition urges IRS to step up for tax season

The groups want the service to reduce unnecessary burdens on taxpayers and tax preparers.
By Roger Russell
January 19

PREMIUM   AUDIT

Myanmar protesters call for international audit institutions to sever contact

An activist group called Justice for Myanmar that has been protesting the military takeover of the Myanmar government is urging international audit institutions to end all their engagement with the government's auditor general.
By Michael Cohn
January 19

PREMIUM   ACCOUNTING

Global economic confidence among accountants dipped in Q4

North American accountants, however, felt more upbeat than most.
By Michael Cohn
January 19

PRACTICE MANAGEMENT

M&A roundup: CRI and Citrin expand

Carr, Riggs & Ingram acquired Travani & Richter; and Citrin Cooperman added Massarsky Consulting.
By Michael Cohn
January 19

PREMIUM   CPA EXAM

Surgent releases mobile study app

Surgent Accounting & Financial Education's new Study Companion app is designed to teach CPA exam candidates in small "microbursts" of time on their smartphones.
By Sean McCabe
January 19

TECHNOLOGY

Questioning SEO, and other tech stories you may have missed

Google suggests that small organizations may not need to focus as much on search engine optimization, and nine other tech developments from the past month.
By Gene Marks
January 19